Several Fishing Boats Overdue As 12 Rescued From Pacific Waters

VANCOUVER—Storm-lashed seas continued to pound the Pacific Coast Monday raising fears for the safety of several fishing boats operating off the southern tip of Vancouver Island, while United States Coastguard announced 12 persons were rescued from the powerless fishing boat Trade Winds, 16 miles north of Depoe Bay, Oregon.

Saturday night, the northwest's first autumn storm sank the Seattle fishing vessel "Smokey" off Vancouver Island, but the Canadian troller Dash-In took off two men and landed them safely at Danfield, B.C. Coastguard officials in Seattle said the 50-foot vessel Quest had sought help Sunday night when its engine was disabled and a motor lifeboat stood by over night till repairs were made and the Quest proceeded safely under its own power. Off Gray's Harbor, the Alice B put in a call for help and the cutter McLean towed it to port.

AUSSIES ADOPT 40-HOUR WEEK

SYDNEY, Australia—Almost 1,000,000 Australians will benefit from today's decision of an arbitration court to grant a 40-hour week throughout Australia. The new hours will become effective in January next and will be a cut of four hours in the 20-year-old 44-hour week standard.

Announcing the result of their 449 days of deliberations, the arbitration court justices said the national economy would stand the burden of a 40-hour week and any fall in production could be overcome. The verdict is regarded here as a triumph for the extreme left wing sections of the Australian trade unions who had threatened a 24-hour general strike if their demands for shorter hours were not met by the court.

SAFECRACKERS GET $1,500 FROM CAFE

VANCOUVER—Expert safecrackers netted $1,500 when they broke into a small safe in Purdy's Cafe here early Sunday. Investigating police said the robbers pried off the dial with a crowbar, put nitroglycerine in the slots and covered the front of the safe with wet towels to deaden the sound of the explosion.

JEWS GET AMMO FROM U.S. ARMY

MUNICH—A United States Army source said today the Jewish underground in Palestine has obtained unauthorized shipments of ammunition from U.S. Army depots in Germany.

IDLE BRITISH MINERS REACH 43,000

BARNESLEY—England—The strike in Britain's nationalized coal mines spread from southern to western Yorkshire today, reversing the partial back-to-work movement which had given rise to hopes for settlement.

Two thousand miners at the Prince of Wales colliery, Pontefract, began a sympathy walkout at the start of the afternoon shift. The colliery, first in western Yorkshire to be affected, has a weekly production target of 11,800 tons. A total of 43,000 mine workers were idle today.

NIP LEAFLET BOMB RAID ON LONDON

PARIS—Security police turned over to the public prosecutor today information involving an American Rabbi and two other persons in what detectives said was a plot to drop 10,000 Jewish propaganda leaflet-bombs from the air in London. Rabbi Baruch Korff, 33, co-chairman of the American political action committee for Palestine, was seized at pistol point Saturday night as he worked toward a private plane at Toussus Le Noble Airport near Versailles.

Investigators said the plane was to be used to drop leaflets over London. Also arrested at the airport were Reginald Vilbert, 24, former United States Army flyer, and Judith Rosenberg, 23, red-haired Hungarian-born secretary. The three, scheduled to appear before an examining magistrate Thursday, are held at present without charges.

CAPILANOS 1947 W.I.L. WINNERS

VANCOUVER—Vancouver Capilanos captured the Western International League pennant Saturday when rain forced the cancellation of the Victoria-Spokane doubleheader.

CITY ALDERMEN RAP BRACEWELL OVER POLICY

B. C. Bracewell, inspector of municipalities, warned City Fathers that his department will no longer allow municipalities to grant city property for the construction of wartime houses at $1 a lot and a minimum of taxes.

Recalling a conversation he had with Mr. Bracewell, City Clerk G. C. Dunn said the government official admitted that Kamloops and Kelowna had "beaten the gun" in allowing Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to build an additional fifty homes in Kelowna. Mr. Dunn said Mr. Bracewell had stated to the effect "the war is over and I feel certain you are not going to get any more lots through at $1 a lot and a minimum of taxes." It is understood he told Kamloops officials the same thing.

"In other words, the war is over and I feel certain you are not going to get any more lots through at $1 a lot and a minimum of taxes," remarked another alderman. "We have our houses, and that's the main thing," stated Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games.

TWO OYAMA MEN HURT IN CRASH

Two men, residents of Oyama, received cuts and bruises shortly before midnight Friday when the car in which they were riding apparently crashed into the bank, rolled over and ended upright in the ditch alongside the Okanagan Highway about six miles south of Vernon. Later it was learned the driver of the car was P. V. Sergeant, and the passenger's name was believed to be G. Gatzke.

Many Kelowna motorists who had attended the lacrosse game at Vernon that night reported seeing the two men and the wrecked car after the accident. Damage to the car was said to be heavy.

CAUSES CRASH; YOUNG DRIVER GOES TO JAIL

Albert W. Nicholson, 19, Tonasket, Washington, Wednesday morning was charged with reckless driving as a result of an accident on the Okanagan highway about three miles south of the ferry slip at about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

He admitted driving his car in such a manner as to sideswipe a car driven by Wm. Jenkinson, of Summerland, while he was passing it on the road. No one was injured but damage to the Jenkinson car was $150.

Nicholson was fined $50 and costs of $5.75 or in default one month in jail. He was unable to pay the fine and Wednesday afternoon was sent to Oakalla. He was also prohibited from driving anywhere in Canada for six months.

WANT PENDOZI STREET WIDENED

The local public works department will be requested to widen Pendozi Street from the city limits to the K.L.O. road and also make provision for sidewalks.

This was decided at the Council meeting Tuesday night after Alderman Jack Horn pointed out that road is getting too congested as a result of the heavy traffic.

PROBE APPLICATION—Alderman Maurice Meikle was requested to investigate the application from James Thierston, 1088 Coronation Avenue, to erect a chicken hatchery on the corner of Coronation and Vernon roads. It was stated Mr. Thierston would not have a brooder and the chicks would not be kept after they were more than a day or so old.

POUND REPORT—The August pound report, as submitted by W. Blackwood to the Council last Tuesday night, showed that two horses had been redeemed, two dogs redeemed and twelve dogs destroyed.

A Jap Nail In His Skull

A two-inch nail was removed from the brain of a Bataan death march survivor, but veterans' administration surgeons said his life would hang in balance for ten days. In a delicate operation which required two and a half hours, the attending neurosurgeon of the Fort Logan Veterans' Hospital at Denver, removed the nail which Virgil Gomez, 27, of Cerro, N.M., said was pounded into his skull by a Japanese soldier while he lay unconscious in a prison camp. Throughout the operation, his wife, shown at the hospital bed beside her husband, sat calmly on a porch outside the operating room. She is holding a nail about the size of that in his head, shown in the X-ray photo below.

Less Than 25 Per Cent Of People Cast Ballots On School Board Bylaw

LESS THAN 25 per cent of ratepayers in unorganized rural areas turned out to vote last Saturday on school bylaws calling for the construction of new institutions in School District No. 23, it was revealed this morning. While results of the ballot will not be known until after the ratepayers in Peachland, Glenora and Kelowna go to the polls at a future date, school board officials said the voting was "very light." Exact number of people entitled to vote could not be ascertained, as the assessment rolls were not complete. Many of those who cast ballots had to sign an affidavit swearing that they were entitled to vote.

The school board bylaw, calling for construction of new schools in various parts of the school district, has not yet been approved by B.C. Bracewell, inspector of municipalities, but when approval is given, voting will take place in Peachland, Kelowna and Glenora municipalities. School board officials hope a larger vote will be cast at that time.

Only 599 Votes—A total of 599 people cast ballots in the various districts last Saturday. Following are the number of votes cast: Kelowna junior high school (for residents of Woodlawn and immediate surrounding district) 11; South Kelowna 18; Bear Creek 6; Mission Creek 43; East Kelowna 62; Okanagan Mission 52; Rutland 65; Black Mountain 2; Ellison 20; Benvoulin 30; Westbank 122; Glenora 11; Joe Rich 2; Ewings Landing 11; Okanagan Centre 43; Winfield 40; Oyama 34; Peachland (outside municipality) 1.

MAYOR POINTS OUT NECESSITY PROBE LICENCES

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games pointed out the necessity of investigating every application for a trades licence—especially transient dealers—in order to protect local merchants.

His Worship said that H. A. McLaren was a transient dealer who had recently sold shoes. He had a display room in the Royal Anne Hotel, and it was found he was selling them after retail stores had closed for the day. It is understood the salesman then left for Kamloops and, when informed he had to put up a $500 bond, he moved on to another point.

Other trades licences granted last Tuesday night were: M. R. Loyt, Glenwood Avenue, electrical contractor; Abraham Saloom, Richter Street, school supplies; J. H. Skells, Rutland, plastering; Joseph Tomlinson, Okanagan Mission, building contractor; Kelowna Machine Shop Ltd. (change in ownership); W. J. McIntyre, bible books; Frank W. Crane, dance at Scout Hall on September 10; and Standard Oil of B.C., who have leased George's Tire Shop.

CITY TO PAY $132 TO HELP DEFRAY COSTS

It will cost the City of Kelowna approximately $135.82 as part of the expenses to entertain delegates at the Union of B.C. Municipalities conference which will be held at Harrison Hot Springs on September 15 to 17. Some time ago, it was agreed that the entertainment costs would be borne by the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, and total cost is estimated at $900.

Based on the 1941 census, Kelowna's share will be $135.82; Vernon, $138.22; and district of Pentecost, $153.30, while the balance is being made up by the smaller municipalities.

THREE FIRMS TO BE LOCATED IN BUILDING

Start Construction on $30,000 Building Located North of C.N.R. Station

Announcement was made today by the New Building Finance Co. Ltd., of Vancouver, that construction work has started on the building on Ellis Street just north of the C.N.R. Station to house the office and plant facilities of Dominion Construction Co. Ltd., general contractors of Kelowna and Vancouver; Hume & Rumble, electrical contractors; and Barr and Anderson, plumbing and heating contractors.

The building will have 110' frontage on Ellis Street and will be 64 feet deep, with large storage sheds and yard area at rear. The new building will be ultra-modern in design, high-grade cut stone and full visual fronts for Barr & Anderson and Hume & Rumble, with Roman Brick trimmings for Dominion Construction. Total expenditure for plant and equipment is estimated at approximately $30,000, it is understood that the three companies have taken long term leases on the property.

Concurrent with the construction of this building was the announcement made by the Dominion Construction Co., of Kelowna, that they have completed over $1,000,000 worth of work in the Okanagan, and the construction of this building marks the faith of another concern in the future growth of the Okanagan. The Dominion Construction now permanently located in Kelowna has its entire payroll composed of local men, and purchases as far as possible all materials locally augmenting only its supply with the purchase of scarce items from its large Coast connections.

NEW SUB-POST OFFICE WILL BE ACQUIRED

The sub-post office in the old radio building on Mill Avenue will be vacated as soon as a building is completed on Leon Avenue, near Water Street, it was revealed this morning. The Leon Avenue building has been under construction for some time, and may be finished the end of this month. It measures 43 x 80 feet, and will be more suitable for mail delivery sorting than the old radio building.

No statement has been issued as to what the city will do with the radio building.

MANY LOCAL SEA CADETS ARE HONORED

Members of Kelowna Corps Receive Awards From Official of Navy League

PROMOTIONS

Keith Murray Young Awarded $890 Scholarship at Naval College Near Victoria

A most interesting and impressive, yet simple ceremony, took place at the local armory last Thursday night when Ray Bicknell, chairman of the main land division of the Navy League of Canada, made a presentation of awards to several petty officers and ratings for high marks in examinations, attendance and leadership.

The following Sea Cadets received awards: CPO K. Young, for good leadership and training of his band; OD Boyce Moore, for attendance; PO John Sugars, for highest marks in PO exams; LS Ellerget, highest marks in LS exams; AB Wanner, highest marks in AB exams; and OD W. Rogers, highest marks in OD exams.

Promotions for those qualified for higher rank were also announced. Lt-Commander Roy Tate, commanding officer of the Corps, confirmed the promotion of each cadet.

Promotions were as follows: PO John Sugars, promoted to Chief Petty Officer; OD G. D. Montgomery, promoted to Leading Seaman; Seaman J. M. Simpson, owner of Simpson Lumber Company, and the 1947-48 agreement was signed a very short time after both groups met at 7:45 p.m. Friday night.

The wage boost, the same as offered by lumber operators more than a month ago, calls for an increase of 12½ cents an hour for those earning over 77 cents an hour, and over 77 cents an hour for box factory workers earning less than 77 cents an hour. Only change in the agreement from last year is the reduction of the probationary period from 90 to 60 days. This agreement also applies to the Kootenay district which was signed several weeks ago. Nothing was mentioned regarding the arbitration of the 2½ cent difference for box factory workers.

Retrospective to July 12—Although the wage boosts are retroactive to July 12, the agreement will be in effect until September 5, 1948.

Move on the part of the union to accept the proposed wage boost came as a surprise to lumber operators when they were requested to meet IWA officials Friday night. The Kelowna meeting was brief, and following the conference, the union officials proceeded to Vernon where they signed the new agreement with lumber operators at that point.

It is believed a conference is now being held at Kamloops between the union heads and lumber officials. Mel Fulton, district representative for I.W.A., refused to make any comment on the new agreement, while Mr. McDonald and Mr. Walker were out of town this morning.

FILE APPLICATION—Gordon McKay, in a letter to City Council last Tuesday night, requested that his application be placed on file for proprietorship of the lunch counter concession in the proposed civic arena. The application was filed without comment.

RESERVE LAND—Laurel Co-operative Union, in a letter to City Council Tuesday night, requested the city to set aside four acres in the industrial area when the land is eventually sub-divided. The letter was filed with many other application which have been received by the city.

Recent Wage Boost to Mill Workers Passed On To Fruit Growers As Box Price Jumps

LUMBER UNION ACCEPTS WAGE BOOST OFFER

Increase of 12½ Cents An Hour Given Employees Earning Over 77 Cents An Hour

SUDDEN MOVE

Kamloops District Only Area Not Signed Up for New 1947-48 Agreement

Lumber operators in the Kamloops district are the only ones who have not signed a new wage agreement with the International Woodworkers' of America (I.W.A.), it was pointed out this morning following a sudden move here last Friday night on the part of the union to accept the wage increase offered by lumber operators in Kelowna and Vernon districts.

Late Friday afternoon, I.W.A. representatives, George Walker and Thomas McDonald requested to meet S. M. Simpson, owner of Simpson Lumber Company, and the 1947-48 agreement was signed a very short time after both groups met at 7:45 p.m. Friday night.

The wage boost, the same as offered by lumber operators more than a month ago, calls for an increase of 12½ cents an hour for those earning over 77 cents an hour, and over 77 cents an hour for box factory workers earning less than 77 cents an hour. Shook Committee Advised Price of Boxes Will Be Increased 15 Per Cent—Wages and Other Manufacturing Costs Given Reason for Increase—Box Shook Committee Giving Thought to Obtaining Substitute Package—Ample Shook Supplies Now On Hand

Starts On 1948 Requirements

RECENT wage increases granted members of the International Woodworkers' of America (I.W.A.), has been immediately reflected in a jump in the price of containers for the fruit growers, the box shook committee of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association revealed this morning. Effective immediately, the Interior Manufacturers' Association, representing all of the box manufacturers in the fruit belt, advised the box shook committee that the proposed wage adjustment in box factories, together with increased costs in other phases of manufacturing boxes, made it necessary for an increase in the price of boxes of 15 per cent over the list price previously in effect. This increase raises the price of apple boxes from $27.55 per 100 to $31.65 per 100. Pear Boxes have jumped from $23.10 to $26.55; peach boxes from $15.50 to $17.80, and tomato lugs from $20.55 to $23.60. The price of all other packages is raised in the same proportion.

L. R. Stephens, secretary of the box shook committee, stated it is interesting to note that during the first world war, the price of apple boxes was raised to a little over 28 cents a piece and within a few years, had dropped back to approximately 12 cents. At the end of World War II, the price had risen to a little over 20 cents followed by an advance in 1945 to 23.6 cents, and in 1946 to 27.5 cents. "It is not difficult to see the possibilities of trouble ahead if there should be a heavy crop in 1948," Mr. Stephens declared. "In the opinion of the shook committee, boxes have now reached the maximum and more thought is being given to obtaining a substitute package."

Mr. Stephens told the Courier that the box situation is now on "easy street." A short time ago, considerable anxiety was felt in the Kelowna area with respect to the purchase of approximately a quarter of a million apple boxes from mills outside the Kelowna area. Now, with the arrival of these outside shipments and the fact that a smaller crop is evident, the box situation is on "easy street."

It is understood that most other areas of the fruit belt will also have sufficient boxes this year to see them through, and intimation has already been given to the mills that after a short respite in deliveries during October and November, the packinghouses will be ready to take delivery against their 1948 requirements. This method of purchasing shook gives the mills an opportunity to keep a fairly steady payroll throughout the whole season, and also allows them to retain more of their key employees throughout the winter months in box making, he stated.

MAYOR REQUESTS COUNCIL STUDY BUSINESS TAX

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games suggested that local delegates attending the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention at Harrison Hot Springs on September 15 to 17, study the proposed business tax as recommended in the Goldenberg report in order that they may be able to take part in the discussion at the conference.

His Worship pointed out that the business tax is in effect in every province except B.C., and that the matter will probably be thoroughly discussed at the Harrison parley. Mr. Hughes-Games said that many cities are looking into the business tax as a means of increasing income, and that there are various ways to apply the tax.

YOUTHS FINED AFTER COMPLAINT

A complaint last week from an unidentified householder about the manner in which a certain car was being operated resulted in the arrest of Donald Weide and V. M. Horn on charges of being intoxicated in a public place. Both were fined $10 and costs of $5.75 in city police court, August 30.

BUILDING CODE—After carefully studying the national building code, Alderman Jack Horn recommended that the regulations be adopted by the city. This report was left on the table until after the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention.

RE-VAMP SYSTEM—"We are continually having to install new heavier wiring circuits and transformers to take heavier loads. Next year we will have to re-vamp our whole switch-board system to look after the heavy loads that have to be carried in the future," Mr. Hughes-Games declared. "To date this year, we have had over 300 new electrical connections. This means new poles, new transformers, new wiring, new circuits—all expensive construction. We have had somewhere near the same number of new water connections which calls for new mains. We have had to construct many new roads, and at the moment, there are a pile of applications for new

WANT SAWDUST PILE REMOVED—City Council will request S. M. Simpson Ltd. to remove the sawdust and shaving pile at the foot of Knox Mountain, in the vicinity of the wartime houses.

ALDERMAN JACK HORN said the sawdust pile is an eyesore and a fire hazard, and termed the move "generally inconsiderate and high-handed" on the part of the lumber mill. He said he thought the disposal of waste comes under the cost of lumber.

Several residents of wartime houses, facing the mountain, have also complained over the refuse pile.

Shoes For Britain

An appeal is now being made through the Kelowna schools for old shoes to be sent to Britain, for use there. School children are being asked to bring any old shoes they may have to the school, from where they will be gathered to a central depot and shipped. The collection is being made under the direction of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

The shoe situation is said to be extremely desperate in Britain and it is hoped that in Canada enough old shoes may be collected to give some measure of comfort in Britain this winter. Canadian housewives, on the other hand, will probably be glad to clean them out. The disposing of old shoes is always a bit of a problem.

The collection of old shoes is being made through the schools simply because it appears to be a speedy and efficient channel. That does not mean that parents should not be interested. The reverse, indeed, is the truth. Parents with children should immediately sort out their old shoes and give them to their youngsters to take to school in order that some Briton will have some footwear this winter. Adults having no children going to school also have a responsibility. They should dig out their old shoes—and every house has them—and ask some school-going youngster to take them to the school.

Kelowna has an extremely fine record in many similar collections built up during the war years. There is no reason why her generous heart should not respond equally as well to this appeal for shoes. The war is over here; in Britain, it is not. Indeed restrictions are worse now than they were during the war years. It is not asking much, when we are requested to see that our old discarded shoes get to the schools in order to save some Britons going shoeless during the coming winter months.

Trans-Canada Highway

Among the many matters which seem to have come to a complete standstill, as the result of Ottawa's failure to bear its share of the cost, is the ambitious and vitally essential Trans-Canada Highway project. Despite the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars and the many glowing promises by federal government spokesmen, Canada is still without a passable coast-to-coast highway.

There is a network of roads that spans the Dominion from Halifax to Vancouver, but this is not the result of co-ordinated Dominion-provincial effort. Some of it, in fact, is not and has never been designated as part of the Trans-Canada system originally envisaged. The North Bay-Hearst-Nipigon highway in Ontario is one example of a connecting link that is not regarded as part of the "official" Trans-Canada highway, and despite the fact that this road does exist, one faction is pressing for the official road to be routed along the rocky north shore of Lake Superior to Sault Ste. Marie.

The City of Edmonton is conducting a vigorous but ill-advised campaign this year to have a Trans-Canada road routed through that city and the Yellowstone Pass. This despite the fact that there are long stretches of roads presently so designated that would discourage the most enthusiastic tourist.

Many sections of the Trans-Canada Highway across the prairies have already fallen in to disrepair, less than six years after their completion. Provincial governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta complain that they are unable to keep up the necessary maintenance work because Ottawa has not yet delivered the financial assistance promised for this purpose. In British Columbia, maintenance work has been maintained and some additional hard surfacing has been done on the Trans-Canada, but there are long stretches—the Big Bend, for instance—that should be hard surfaced. Ottawa, apparently, is reluctant to make any expenditures for such purposes while the employment index remains at a high level.

The withholding of Dominion funds to put the highway in fair condition is delaying the completion of one of the most important engineering projects Canada has undertaken since the first trans-continental railway was built. So long as the federal government continues its present policy of drift and delay, this country will be deprived of an asset of incalculable worth. A national highway is of service to no one unless traffic can use it.

Much has been said in the past fifteen years of the tremendous tourist revenue that can accrue as a result of a Trans-Canada Highway. It is true, but only if the highway meets the highest modern standards and is attractive enough to compete with the broad, paved United States routes. That is the goal we should be working toward now. Instead of being satisfied with gravel roads and alternative routes to please all communities, we should be preparing and executing a planned program aimed at providing one paved coast-to-coast road to serve the best interests of Canada as a whole. The project is national in importance. Ottawa must give the lead, and soon, before roads already built have deteriorated to such a state that the whole job has to be done over again. The provinces, at least British Columbia, are prepared to co-operate, if once Ottawa shows any inclination to assume its share of the burden.

The Socialist State and the Co-operatives

One noticeable effect of a socialist government in Saskatchewan has been to create new problems for the co-operative movement, large numbers of whose individual members undoubtedly helped vote that government into office. The co-operatives face a constant uncertainty, like private industry, as to what fields of industry are to be left for them to develop, and what new enterprises the state will decide to embark upon.

The problem is not peculiar to Saskatchewan. It arises wherever a party committed to state socialism comes to power in a country where co-operatives as well as private industry are already active. Mr. G. L. Perkins, president of the Co-operative Union of Great Britain, recognized this problem when, during his address to the last annual congress of the union, he touched on the relationships between co-operative trading and services provided by the state and municipalities.

Because the co-operative movement in Great Britain for many years has been a close political ally of the Labor party—whereas its Canadian counterpart has remained politically neutral hitherto—Mr. Perkins expressed willingness to collaborate with the Labor government, feeling there was no reason why the co-operatives and socialism "should not travel along parallel lines." Then he added:

"But let us make it clear once and for all that the co-operative movement has no intention of merging the economic organization it has created, or the principles and traditions which it upholds, with state or municipality—or regarding state or municipal activity in the spheres in which it has concerned itself as any substitute for co-operative action."

The British co-operatives are finding, as in Saskatchewan, that state socialism does not provide the economic atmosphere in which they can best flourish. Rather is the reverse true. Co-operatives by their nature, depend for their future growth, and indeed their very existence, upon the preservation of the competitive system in industry.

Competition Builds the Champion

The return of American sports competition on its full prewar scale has added a flavor of international interest to most major Canadian sports events this year. Perhaps it also explains the failure of Canadians to win any major title in the Canadian tennis championships at Vancouver or to place higher than third in the Royal Canadian Henley regatta at Port Dalhousie, Ontario. In any event, these failures, coming on top of the Canadian open golf championship, seem to underscore a question sportsmen have been asking themselves a good many years: Why do Canadians fare so poorly in international athletic competition?

With the exception of hockey, which is our native sport, games in which Canadians excel are few and far between. No Canadian, for instance, has won the Canadian Open since 1914, when leading American golfers first began to compete. Our Davis Cup tennis teams have rarely won so much as a single first round match. Our oarsmen and paddlers no longer dominate their fields, as once they did. Canadian track and field performances fall considerably short of world-record standards.

Climate is one explanation advanced for our failure to match American competition and, in such sports as tennis and golf there is an element of validity in it. Most of the U.S. tennis stars come from California where the game can be played the year round. The best American golfers compete all winter in the "grapefruit circuit." But golf can be played most of the year at Vancouver and Victoria and the tennis season there, too, is longer than anywhere else in Canada. If climate were the controlling factor the Pacific Coast should provide most of our best golfers and tennis players, which it does not.

Is it, then, a matter of competition? Are Canadians too content to limit their competitive play to local events, where they feel their chances of winning are better? That is one suggestion that has been advanced by a sports expert, who believes we should send our local champions into American tournaments as often as possible, exposing them to an increasingly high calibre of play.

Perhaps we are becoming a nation of sports spectators rather than competitors. Champions are the athletes with more than ordinary endowments of strength and skill. When there is a large field to choose from, the likelihood of finding one such exceptionally gifted individual is greater than when the field is small. And, unless memory plays tricks, it does seem that more boys and girls used to take part in more forms of athletic competition

WONDER HOW many Kelowna people noticed the little item in the newspapers a couple of three weeks ago from East Angus, Quebec. A young man was arrested and found guilty of wearing shorts in the public view. Yes, she was found guilty of wearing shorts in the public view. A pair of feminine legs down east apparently is an indecent thing, and if any Kelowna women are thinking of visiting that area, they had better leave their shorts at home. On the other hand, it would make a damned interesting news story for The Courier—"Kelowna Girl Arrested for Indecent East Angus Exposure" . . .

IN THESE DAYS of controversy over what is not "decent" in female dress, it is best for the girls, when in Rome, to do as the Romans do. Thus, in Kelowna, they may wear their shorts to their hearts content; But, in East Angus, well, they had

Our Town

By JACK SCOTT

SOUTHBOUND

My old friend the Doc was sitting with me yesterday on the edge of a wharf where we go to trade philosophies and there was a duck flying high and straight in the early autumn air.

"Look at him go," the Doc said, "Southbound and on the beam."

"How do you explain that Doc?" I asked. "What is the story behind migration?"

"That's a complicated business," the Doc said. "It's instinct, of course, whatever that is."

"Maybe it isn't," I said. "Maybe Mr. Duck just feels those fall winds and decides its time he was heading for the happy south. I feel that way myself plenty of times. There's no instinct involved in it."

"No," the Doc agreed, "but you see, there are a lot of migratory birds that never know what winter's like . . . the doc I know what they're flying away from. Take that duck up there—probably a widower. Chances are he's never given our winter a fair chance. Who knows? He might like it here."

"He's a rut," I said. "Nothing but summer."

The duck was obviously not letting this worry him. He was still trying hard to catch up with summer.

"Maybe the duck's parents just taught him that was the thing to do," I suggested.

"That doesn't add up, either," the Doc said. "Lots of birds make their first hop apart from their parents. It isn't simply a tradition."

"Maybe not," I said. "But how do you explain the fact that some of these birds keep right on flying clean across the tropics? You'd think a smart duck would just travel far enough to get warm, then sit down and enjoy himself."

"A good question," the Doc said, "but instincts have a habit of being very practical. If that duck is heading for the other side of the equator you can bet there's a good reason for it. He'll get two different homes a year, both perfectly suited to his tastes, feeding grounds with plenty of breakfast food, more hours to hunt for it and eat it, fewer storms and winds."

"Yes," I said, and I suppose he's got a girl friend waiting for him, too."

"Yes," the Doc said, "the breeding angle is important, too. But the fact that this instinct is useful doesn't explain its existence, although it may account for its survival."

I thought this over carefully. "Explain," I said.

"Well, I mean something started this instinct. Maybe the colossal change on the earth way back that just forced the birds to do their long jaunts. In other words, that duck up there has some psychological twist that was born thousands of years ago."

"A duck with a complex," I said. "That's a new one."

The Doc lit a cigarette and flipped the match in an arc. It hit with a tiny hiss in the water and we watched it float off on the tide.

"Seems to me you've missed the real question," the Doc said. "How do they get there without a road map? That's the puzzle that's the really tough one."

"Well, I was going to say that they could see where they're going. I put it in lamely, but that doesn't explain how they get through fog or across long stretches of water, does it?"

"No, it doesn't," the Doc said. "What's more, the path of migration are always the same. That duck up there is on a paved highway. The only answer, if you reason it out, is that the duck, or all migratory birds, have a memory of the route they're on."

"A memory?" I said, "but suppose it's his first trip?"

Then they're flying on a memory that was their mother's or father's," the Doc said. "They're born with a memory."

The duck was out of sight, swallowed in the pale sky. We strolled back up the wharf, frowning.

nized champion is such a great stimulant to mass interest, perhaps we should give more thought to developing championship material. Surprising things might be accomplished if every community were to look into the matter and find what can be done to revive interest in general competition, in which more boys and girls took part who today are content to stand and watch.

If an officer of the law is permitted to peep over the garden wall and then to climb in and arrest you if while you take a shower? The charge, I suppose, would be "indecent exposure" . . .

THERE ARE, thank goodness, locks on doors, blinds on windows and curtains on the showers of the nation's bathrooms, and there is still a search warrant. But who wants to keep all doors locked, all blinds pulled, simply to keep out the prying eyes of some nosy policeman? Most of us sleep with our bedroom windows wide open. It is a recognized, even if not widely publicized, fact that many, including some prominent citizens, forgo night clothing for the sake of comfort. The next thing may well be vigilantes' flashlights poking through our window screens . . .

ADMINISTERED too literally, a little law can be a dangerous thing, especially one designed to impose some one else's concept of sin. Indeed, as ever, 'evil be to him who thinks evil' . . .

THE EAST ANGUS incident is one more illustration why people are finding it more pleasant to live in British Columbia.

SEPTIC TANKS

Permission was granted for the installation of six septic tanks when applications were approved by City Council Tuesday night. Those granted permission were: C. H. Taylor, 943 Clement; Julia Anderson, 2225 upon "who's wearing 'em." That is, he doesn't like your hemline, what is to prevent him from coming right into the living room? What, indeed, is to prevent him coming right into the bath room and arresting you another matter and a subject for another day. Today we are discussing the implications of the East Angus situation. And they are serious . . .

HOW FAR CAN the authorities go in enforcing such laws as that which brought the East Angus woman to court? And where, it can be asked, does the age-old sanctity of the home apply? It is agreed that the householder should not offend his neighbors by digging in his garden in his underwear and his spouse should use reasonable restraint in her choice of halter tops. But in the case in question, were the neighbors offended? Did Mrs. Jones next door ring up the police. (We'll wager Mr. Jones didn't.) The reports put the onus on the zealous efforts of the police . . .

THE CASE of the lady in shorts raises all sorts of delicate questions.

Loyd Addresses First General Meeting of Rutland Trade Board

Newly-formed Organization Has Successful Dinner Meeting

The Rutland Board of Trade, organized at a meeting in June, held its first general meeting on Wednesday, August 27, with an attendance of some fifty members and guests. The meeting was held at El Rancho, and was preceded by a dinner. Guests included A. K. Loyd, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., who was the guest speaker; Mayor W. H. Hughes-Games, of Kelowna; Reeve Charles Henderson, of Glenora; F. N. Gibson and Tom Hill, of the Kelowna Board of Trade; C. McKenzie, president of the Westbank Board of Trade; Francis Thompson, Jr., chairman of the East Kelowna Local, B.C.F.G.A.; and Arthur Geen, chairman of the Ellison Local, B.C.F.G.A.

Everett Reser, president of the Rutland Board, was in the chair and acquitted himself very creditably, handling the meeting in good order. After the supper, A. W. Gray introduced Mr. Loyd, referring to his long association with Rutland affairs, and the fighting spirit which Rutland residents had followed his rise to the head of the fruit industry.

Mr. Loyd dealt with his experiences during a recent visit to Europe in connection with the negotiation of trade agreements at Geneva. He told of the flight over the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Scotland, of visiting the fruit areas in Britain, and particularly of his impressions of Switzerland.

Conserve Soil
It is an intensely industrious and scrupulously clean country, he commented, and told of how the people cultivated the mountainsides, by scooping out steep slopes and conserving every ounce of soil capable of producing crops. Soil for these hillside farms is even obtained by running walls into the rivers to collect silt in flood time, and this was then carried up in baskets by hand to the mountain farms, he said.

In concluding his address, the speaker referred particularly to conditions in Britain, where austerity is still with them and the ravages of the war are still in evidence. In spite of all this, their spirits are still strong, and particularly so in the rural areas. In some of the cities some bitterness and discouragement is in evidence, for their sufferings have been greater and the recovery much slower.

A. L. Baldock thanked the speaker on behalf of the members of the board of trade, emphasizing the feeling of great debt felt by the growers to "A. K." for the manner in which he had directed the industry through troublesome times. As a means of getting everyone acquainted, called up on each one to rise, give his name and occupation. So rapidly has the district grown and the population changed that many Rutland residents present thus met fellow growers and business men for the first time.

Several of the guests spoke a few words when introduced to the audience. Mayor Hughes-Games referred to the need for better understanding between Kelowna and the surrounding districts, and assured the board of Kelowna's desire to co-operate fully with Rutland and other districts. He particularly dis-claimed any responsibility on the part of Kelowna city council for the extension of the zoning regulations to such a large area, putting the responsibility upon the government. Mr. Gibson, Mr. Glenora, brought greetings from the Kelowna Board of Trade, and wished the new organization every success, saying that the gathering present for this first general meeting augured well for the Rutland board's future.

Reeve Henderson, of Glenora, spoke briefly, bringing the greetings of that municipality and expressing the view that a board of trade looked to be something that Glenora might start to good advantage. Mr. McKenzie, of the Westbank board, spoke of the assistance their board had been able to give Rutland in starting up and complimented the Rutland board, who had too quickly taken away Westbank's title of being the "baby" board of trade in B. C.

Fire Reports
Reports of committees were then received. Paul Sedlack reported for the fire prevention committee, telling of unsuccessful efforts to obtain an air force crash wagon for local use. Two resolutions were approved by the meeting, the first being the hope that incorporation of Rutland would assist materially in the job of financing any fire protection equipment.

J. W. Husch reported on behalf of the membership committee that over fifty membership tickets had been sold to date. Membership fees were set at $3 for individuals or fruit growers; $5 for business men, and $10 for corporations, co-operative societies and partnerships.

A. W. Gray reported for the park committee, telling of the assistance given to the Rally Day by board of trade members, who had undertaken the canvass for prize money and had put up the new fence along the front of the athletic field. The committee intends to turn attention this fall to fixing up the new park property held by the B.C.F.G.A.

Rev. J. A. Petrie, reporting for the bylaws committee, read the bylaws to the meeting, but owing to the lateness of the hour, the decision on adoption was left to a subsequent meeting. Two resolutions were approved by the meeting, the first being one in favor of joining the Okanagan and Main Line Associated Boards of Trade. A letter was read from the secretary of the Association of B.C. Irrigation Districts by Don Reynolds, the board secretary, asking the board to take membership in the Western Canada Reclamation Association. On a motion by D. McDougall, seconded by C. K. Humm, the meeting also adopted this resolution.

PROFESSIONAL STATUS GIVEN MUSIC TEACHERS

Gov't Bill Gives Members of B.C. Music Teachers' Association New Privilege

When a professional body is given an Act of Incorporation by the provincial government, its standard of work becomes officially recognized as good. This is not only a protection to the organization involved, but a guarantee to the public which could otherwise only rely on the honest dealing of individuals. With the passing of the Registered Music Teachers Bill at the last session of the British Columbia Legislature, members of the B.C. Music Teachers Association were given professional status and the right to use the designation "Registered Music Teacher".

To many music teachers in British Columbia this is a privilege which they have desired for years, and with the opening of another teaching season, they will continue their good work with the added prestige of government recognition as a safeguard against incompetents and charlatans.

The public, too, will benefit by this act. A longer and surer study, by the few as a cultural subject. Its value in education is recognized by psychologists and education authorities alike, and the teaching of it should be in the hands of men and women whose professional standing is acknowledged and certified.

The B.C. Registered Music Teachers Association has been working to raise and maintain standards in music tuition for the past 25 years. No teachers are accepted for membership unless he or she is the holder of a diploma from a recognized music institution, or can produce evidence of five years successful teaching. This in itself is a guarantee of a high professional standard, but with the added protection of the government recognition gives to the public generally is assured of good, sound music tuition from the registered music teacher.

PALAMINO COLTS FEATURE RODEO

When Roy Eden invited H. J. Stuart, of Hefley Creek, to bring his Palaminos as an added stampede attraction, it was a good move, for Palaminos are news. Mr. Stuart, a retired lumberman, and his wife, moved from Vancouver to "Hidden Valley Ranch" a year ago. "Bright Star" (five times Palamino champion in Western Canada, shone as a star turn in the two parades. Mr. Stuart bought the stallion from Jerry Puckett, of Calgary. "Bright Star" came from Texas and is by "Golden Dawn," one of the finest Palaminos, being registered in the Palamino Horse Breeders' Association of America and the Palamino Horse Association.

Sold for $25,000
"Bright Star" sire is a registered American quarter horse, as well as champion in the Texas Palamino shows, and his brothers and sisters are winning championships all over the States. A half-brother of "Bright Star" was recently sold for $25,000. "Valley Starlight," three-year old filly, sired by "Bright Star," is out of a chestnut three-quarter horse, roughbred mare, and says Lyle Hickling, Mr. Stuart's left-hand man, "she doesn't show the thoroughbred breeding at all; but, the quarter horse conformation is so strong in her, that she shows it more than the sire does."

Mrs. Hickling's three-year old "Nugget" was the beautiful Palamino mare she rode in the parades. Lyle Hickling is raising Palamino colts, and expects a nice crop of them next spring.

YOUTH INJURED SEVERELY IN CAR CRASH

One youth was severely injured and two others escaped with only cuts and bruises when the car in which they were riding went off the road and crashed into a telephone pole on the side of the Barle stretch of the Vernon Highway at 12.30 a.m. last Wednesday.

In hospital suffering from concussion, a possible fracture of the skull, severe face lacerations and a fractured hip bone, is William McNair, 17, of Armstrong. With him in the car at the time but getting off with cuts and bruises were Stanley Keaders, 17, and Jack Brown, 20, both of Armstrong. The car, a 1929 Chevrolet, was completely wrecked.

The injured youth is a nephew of Dave McNair of this city and was being headed home after attending the Kelowna stampede.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Captain and Mrs. Claude H. Taylor entertained informally at their home on the South Kelowna benches, when they invited some forty friends to an after-five party, on Thursday. Mr. William Todd had supplied the beautiful gladioli which the hostess had used for her flower arrangements. Miss Belinda Taylor and Capt. Nigel Taylor helped their parents in serving the guests.

Miss Marion Davies left on Friday for a weekend trip to Calgary where she will spend the week-end with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Albert E. Burke, with Bonnie, left a week ago to join her husband at Hancey where he has made a new home for them. Prior to her departure, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Urquhart, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Black and Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown invited friends to Elstero Arms for a farewell party for Mrs. Burke. Also honored, were Miss Eileen Cairns, who has left to join the staff of St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver, and Mrs. Chuck Dunn, who has left the clinic staff.

Mrs. Robert McKee was an informal tea hostess on Wednesday afternoon, when she entertained at a farewell garden tea for Mrs. Geo. McKee, of Burnaby. Heinz vinegar—best bet for relishes for winter

RECIPES
GREEN RELISH
Chop 4 celery peppers, 4 sweet red peppers and 2 lbs. (12 medium) onions. Combine $\frac{1}{2}$ cup salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mustard seed and 1 teaspoon turmeric. Blend in $\frac{1}{2}$ cups light corn syrup, $\frac{1}{2}$ cups Heinz Distilled White Vinegar and $\frac{1}{2}$ cups water. Heat to boiling, covered. Add chopped peppers and onions, and 4 quart (9 medium stalks) sliced celery. Simmer, covered for 3 minutes. Quickly pack one hot, sterilized jar at a time. Fill to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch from top. Be sure Vinegar solution covers the vegetables. Seal each jar at once. Yield: 10 pints.

WANTED (Miscellaneous)

DEAR FRIENDS—MOST OF YOU are my friends. I hope. My intentions were always the best. Many of you happily married people in Kelowna will remember all the help I gave you in those exciting days leading to your settling down. Things are tougher today and now I need your help. I had quite a time convincing a couple they did not want to marry, but now that I did, I find the wedding day approaches and they have no place to go. So, some of you friends of mine, for the sake of the cause, if you have a furnished suite or small apartment available by Nov. 1, mail a letter to Box 605 Kelowna Courier.

IF I knew where the letters would be coming from I'd gladly go get them myself and fly them to the Courier. Anyhow, I'll guarantee all postage will be refunded. Your little friend, DAN CUPID.

P.S. If you have a used ladies' bike, they could use that, too, right away.

A scholarship is given to the sea cadet earning the highest marks both in the interview and the examinations which follow.

Cadet Five Years Keith's brother, John Robert Young, 19, entered Royal Roads in 1946 and is an RCN Cadet until past out as midshipman. He has been a sea cadet for five years and rose to the rank of midshipman in the Corps before going to Royal Roads.

Keith Young, 18, will report to Royal Roads on September 10. He has been with the Corps for six years, having joined on September 4, 1941, reaching the rank of CPO. This is in the nature of an anniversary for Keith. By painstaking and conscientious work, he was finally successful in organizing the band and has been a valuable member of the "Greenview" Sea Cadets.

A new and interesting training syllabus has been arranged and organized for the new sea cadet year, and recruits are invited to visit headquarters on Tuesday nights and make application to join the organization.

BLIND TAG DAY NETS $669.77 A total of $669.77 was collected as a result of the tag day sponsored by the local branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, it was revealed this morning.

Officials of the Kelowna Branch are gratified over the public response. The amount collected Saturday was about $30 up over the total received in last year's tag day.

CITY PROVIDES BIRD SANCTUARY

City Council agreed to spend $109 to cover the cost of erecting "no shooting" signs on property on the southern section of the city limits which will be set aside for a bird sanctuary.

This was decided at last Tuesday night's Council meeting after H. V. Craig and O. V. M. Roxy suggested that the ten acres would be ideal for preserving bird life. The signs will be erected around the property and also anchored in the water on the lake shore.

Says Britain May Have To Lose Population To Solve Problem

W. R. Carruthers Urges Canada Adopt Immigration Policy For British People

That the solution of Britain's economic troubles was in the emigration of about twenty million of her forty-six million people, was the opinion expressed by W. R. Carruthers, of Manchester, Eng., to the Kelowna Gyro Club on Tuesday night. He urged that Canada immediately adopt an immigration policy to take a proportion of these people for her own and the world's good.

Mr. Carruthers recalled that it was Britain's exports, visible and invisible—actual goods and the services such as insurance, shipping, investment returns—that had before the war enabled her to feed her population by paying for the importation of the necessary foodstuffs.

Despite the fact that Britain's pre-war trade picture was not a poor one, many of the people were suffering from malnutrition. While admittedly some of them were very poor, the malnutrition was caused by poor buying of food rather than lack of it. Many Britons simply refused to consider anything like a balanced diet.

Even before the war, Mr. Carruthers said, there were definite signs that things were not going well with Britain economically. The rich were suffering equally with the poor, perhaps more so. Large estates were being sold because they could not be kept up; death duties ended many large fortunes.

Now, however, the picture is a drastic one. The invisible exports of the visible exports of the country are gone. Foodstuffs must be imported. Raw materials must be purchased. The invisible exports disappeared when they were literally thrown into the pot by the British when they were fighting alone to give the United States and Russia a chance to get ready.

Mr. Carruthers expressed the opinion that Britain would have extreme difficulty in regaining her lost export markets. Many countries to whom she exported before the war are now more highly industrialized and would be actually in competition with Britain on world markets, rather than a receptive market for many of British goods. Canada was a good example of these countries, and there are many more, India, for instance.

At the same time Asia, Africa, Europe are not in a position to take manufactured goods and pay for them.

Yet Britain, the government estimates, must produce and sell 175 per cent (in weight) of her 1938 exports, if she is to make any economic recovery at all. Mr. Carruthers did not believe this figure could be reached.

If Britain or any other country cannot sell enough goods to pay for the food needed, there is only one other course. That is to borrow. But borrowing without repayment leads eventually directly to bankruptcy.

Mr. Carruthers thought there were two courses which might be followed in an effort to close the financial gap between the country's exports and its imports. One of these was the method now being tried by the government, which is to curtail imports drastically in an attempt to balance the budget. But this method is leading to a still lower standard of the already "very low" standard of living.

That the standard of living was low was not because the working people have not the money to make purchases, Mr. Carruthers emphasized.

That the standard of living was low was not because the working people have not the money to make purchases, Mr. Carruthers emphasized.

They have the money but they cannot spend it because there is nothing to buy. The result is that many working men cannot see why they should work longer hours to obtain money which is of little use to them. The result is a growing absenteeism from their jobs and a continuance of the vicious circle leading to still lower production and fewer goods to export.

The second course which Britain might follow, Mr. Carruthers said, was the export of population. He mentioned the figure of twenty million people. If there were only twenty-six million people in the country, the farms of Britain could almost feed them. This in turn would make it possible for Britain to eliminate that huge bill which she now must pay for the importation of foodstuffs.

Her production figures should suffer but little, too. He pointed out that during the war literally millions of people were withdrawn from industry and placed in non-productive jobs (such as the services) and yet Britain's production during the war created new records. He felt something similar might be achieved here, he hoped, that under such circumstances the production per man hour would increase from the very low level it is at the present time.

Industrially, he felt that Britain under these circumstances would be well advised to produce only quality goods. She cannot compete on a mass production basis with the United States but she can find a market for quality goods. He pointed out that before the war, quality British cotton sold in huge quantities right in the United States which produces huge amounts of cotton goods itself.

Turning to the immigration picture, he stated that Australia, New Zealand and South Africa were already making great efforts to obtain large numbers of British settlers. Canada had not.

He felt that Canada's lack of immigration policy was the result in some measure of the dual-race problem in the country. The French Canadians looked upon immigration as a means of swamping them.

He urged that the west should make a sympathetic effort to understand the Quebec viewpoint on many problems. He said, needed British settlers. He did not believe it would be possible to retain Canada's great area in so unsettled a state as it is now. If the country is to be developed, in a peaceful, orderly or two some of the over-crowded nations of the world will be again looking for "living room", as did Hitler, and greedy eyes would be turned toward this country.

He pointed out that the greater population in the country meant a building up of the domestic market for Canadian agriculture and industry, probably lesser imports from the United States and a better financial picture for Canada, as the best and safest market is the domestic field.

RACES PROVIDE MANY THRILLS AT PENTICTON

Police Clamp Down on Newly Set-up Pari-Mutuel Betting

Racing provided the usual thrills, minus those of betting, as police clamped down on the newly set up pari-mutuel betting at the Penticton Labor week celebrations on Saturday.

The quarter mile open purse of $50 went to the Pearl Beamer's "Johnny Walker," Floyd Deamer, 14, up, with C. Knowles' "Oaks" second and Kruger's "Wee Flynn" third.

Billy (Dolores) Havens, 13, on "Bunny Tabbit," and Patty (Patricia) Havens, 9, on "Lazy Boy," were first and second in the kid's pony race, with Marilyn McInnis third on "Shelly." The purse being $25.

The five-eighths open purse of $50 went to C. Knowles' "Miss Salve," with Donald Knowles, 13, up. Cliff Johnson's "Eddy Dec" was second, and "Flora Dora" from the Buster Malloy's Tonasket stables, was third.

In the fourth race, the purse of $70 for the three-eighths open, went to the Kruger's 17 year old favorite, "Okanagan," the Clifton's "Golden Penny" with 14 year old Fred Lambert up, was second, and Kruger's "Wee Flynn" third.

The half mile open was taken by "Waterville Princess" owned by E. Nebergall, of Spokane, with tiny Fred Lambert aboard, booting her home to the tune of $80. "Oaks" was second and the Buster Malloy's "Cache Creek" third, Lloyd Chapman up.

The three-quarter open purse of $100 went to Oroville owner Knowles' "Kellisto." Longacre and Nebergall's "Almire Lady," with Lambert up, was second, and the Beamer's "Plenty Fast," was third.

In a false start in this race, Frankie Kruger was unable to hold his horse. Well-meaning helpers ran out on the track and waved their hats to stop the runaway "Marvus II" causing him to leap a wire fence, throwing the baby jockey, the result being an eight inch gash to the shinbone, and several days in hospital.

Final race for an $80 purse, was the one mile pony express, in which hardbitten owners, heavy-set and going bald, rode each of two ponies once around the track. Pearl Beamer, from Okan came roaring in first, having ridden "Johnny Walker" and "Plenty Fast," "Eddy Dec" and "Nifty" brought their owner, Cliff Johnson in second, while Eddie Kruger got third with "Jerry" and "Starlight."

Penticton Riding Club, whose numbers have increased greatly in the last year, has a membership of 70. A fine show was put on by well-trained horses and accomplished riders, between races, with Mrs. Geo. d'Epergon and Miss Rosie Owen in charge. Potato race was won by Allan Hyndman, on "Rocket," Mrs. Ches. McAstocker, on "Dixie," second, and Marilyn McInnis, on "Shor-ty," third.

Rosie Owen won the bending race, with Louise Schwenk and Marilyn McInnis hot on her heels. In tent-pegging, Eric nosed out his father, Allan Hyndman, with Captain A. M. Temple, third, and in the bareback and saddle race, Cathie Anthony on "Bess" was nosed out by Eric Hyndman on "Lucky," while Ernie Cook on "Quita" was third. In the jumping, Capt. Temple, Eric Hyndman and Ches. McAstocker on "Major" were in first places.

Algie Jackson provided a thrill by jumping "Blackie" through a hoop of fire.

Critical Stage Reached In Boxla Wars; Locals Needing Win Tonight

KELOWNA'S box lacrosse seniors will have their backs to the wall tonight in a desperate fight to take the fourth game of the Vernon-Kelowna Rowcliffe Cup finals and even the best-of-five series at two apiece.

The locals were put on this brink of elimination from the interior championship by the Vernon Tigers at Vernon Friday night, when the decision went to the hometown seven, 11-8. Midway through the week, Kelowna had knotted the series by throwing the Tigers for a 13-10 loss at Vernon, after the Vernonites took the first game here last Monday, 12-9.

A quick glance at the scores for done better. The Tigers were right the three games—each was won by in on him in the clear. For the balance of the game the an slim margin of three goals—gives an indication of how evenly matched Vernon and Kelowna have turned out to be. The series has so far turned into one of the most exciting and hectic finals seen in the Valley in years and if Kelowna turns the trick tonight, the deciding game, at Vernon, should see the first sell-out crowd at the arena for a lacrosse game in years.

Strictly Defensive

Friday night's battle was strictly a defensive one. Time after time both sides disorganized repeated assaults, and shots on goal were few and seldom. Play zoned back and forth from one zone to the other but rarely did the attackers get an open shot on the netminders.

Unlike the first two playoff games, Kelowna drew first blood Friday night, with Lou Rampone bulging the twine at 1:45 of the first quarter with the first shot on goal of the game. But that lead was short-lived as Frank Redman tied it up at the three minute mark.

Tigers had the slightest of edges most of the game, their passes clicking a little better and their shooting a little more accurate. Penalties played a fair role in this game as in others.

Vernon got a pair while Stan Munson was doing five minutes for getting his tick on someone's nose, though Herb Capozzi got one of them back with a timely solo effort. Later on, Bob Monahan was off for the same offense, but the Tigers hung on stubbornly and kept the visitors scoreless.

The finale was all it promised to be, with Kelowna starting out in the hole 9-5 and nearly pulling up even halfway through. Goals by Rampone, Parks and Main saw the lead dwindle to 9-8 with about six minutes to go. But Vernon's Gordie Bush clinched it on a free shot that beat Ken Ritchie. Just for good measure, Bush repeated with two minutes left, while Monahan was serving his major penalty and Art Gillard was off for trespassing in the crease.

BOX BITS—Hundreds of Kelowna fans were cheering their boys on. Many of them found fault with JIMMY GUNN's way of handling the game. That was the last game for Gunn, by the way. He had to be back in Vancouver Saturday . . . KEN PARKS had a noticeable limp, caused by arch trouble, but he hoped to be better for tonight's do . . . A special bus will be coming down from Vernon for tonight's game here . . . Kelowna is determined to take this one, and it may be the last one for AL BIANCO who has to report for normal school . . . Fifth game will be in Vernon Wednesday—if . . .

WEDNESDAY'S GAME

Showing their best form this year, the Kelowna seniors outplayed, outran and outshot the defending Tigers in every quarter but the opener.

During the last half the Orchard City septet clicked like a precision watch and showed the 800-odd fans some dazzling passing plays, ending up on top 13-10. Young Ronnie Holland, who a week ago Sunday at first was thought to have suffered a broken arm against the Salmonbellies, was back in uniform and if there were any individual stars, he was one of them. He not only led the scoring with four goals, but inspired with his bursts of speed and worried his check. "Irish" Conley no end.

Ritchie Back

Sharing the spotlight, but on the defensive strictly, was Ken Ritchie, wandering goalie, who was back in his favorite spot after an absence of about six weeks sojourning on the defence with the junior Legion Pioneers. Ritchie pulled off some exceptional saves and when he got in the red in the first canto it is doubtful if anyone could have

LOCAL YOUTH INTERIOR HILL CLIMB CHAMP

Many Kelowna Motorcyclists Finish Well at Kamloops 'Cycle Meet

The Kelowna Motorcycle Club rode away with more prizes than any other club during the Labor Day Hub City Cruisers' A.M.A. authorized hill-climbing competition and motorcycle gymkhana at Kamloops, September 1. Other competitors were from Vancouver, Wenatchee, Oroville and Kamloops.

Ray Barber, of Kelowna, won the interior hill-climb championship and with it a large silver cup. He topped a first in the expert 45 class and a second in the novice 45 to earn the title of hill-climb king. Ray rode the "Grey Ghost," a Harley 45 doctored up by Sherry Morio, who spent a great deal of time putting the extra horses on the motor.

Special Out

Roy Reorda, also of the Orchard City, took second spot in the novice 80, using his own 74 O.H.V. and a tire with a special grip he cut out himself. This combination had both the Wenatchee and the Oroville boys worried.

Eric Kramer, another local club member, and his touted "Yellow Line," took hold and really moved in the expert 45, ending up with fourth spot. Chains were used in the expert class and it was in this event that the Kelowna Club almost made a complete shut out.

Other local competitors were C. Robertson, 74 S.V., Henry Tutt, 45, and Caesar Turri, 45. Ian Collinson acted as official starter. The hill was sandy and bumpy becoming very difficult after the first few bikes had made their climbs. Although there were a few spills and near-loops on the hills, no one was injured. "The show was a success in every way," Gerry Hutchinson, president of the Hub City Cruisers said afterwards.

BASKETBALL MEETING

Plans for a heavy basketball season will start rolling soon and the first step will be the all-important general meeting this coming Tuesday (tomorrow) at the Junior Chamber of Commerce room in the Board of Trade office at 7:30 p.m.

SERVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY

Chemistry?

WELL, I'VE HEARD OF IT!

YES, EVERYONE has heard of chemistry but few of us realize the part it plays in our daily lives. Countless products are entirely chemical. It improves and reduces the cost of many things. It creates jobs.

At home, chemistry becomes personal. It purifies the water we drink, improves the food we eat, the clothes we wear. It comes to us as salt and in soap. We meet it in "Cellophane", nylon, paint and plastic form. This would be a drab life without chemistry.

Regardless of world conditions, this progressive science drives ahead towards the goal of better working and living conditions . . . with the C-I-L oval trademark as symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For Instance . . .

AMMUNITION

Never content with things as they are, chemistry, the restless science, is constantly producing better sporting ammunition; for instance, waterproofed shot shells were developed by Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, 1135 Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal.

PRECIPITATION DURING AUGUST SHOWS INCREASE

The thermometer climbed to 90 degrees on two occasions during the month of August, while precipitation during the month was greater compared with the corresponding period last year, according to records released today by Dave Chapman, local meteorologist.

The mercury hit the same high as was recorded in August, 1946, while precipitation amounted to 32 inch, compared with 21 inch during the same month last year. Heaviest rain occurred on August 16, when .64 inch was recorded.

Average maximum temperature last month was 78.67 degrees, while the average minimum was 59.9 degrees.

Shorter Bowling Season In Men's Five-Pin Loop

Fivepinners Will Play Three Nights Weekly — Teams to Register by Sept. 15

Important changes regarding several aspects of the Men's Commercial Fivepin League changes that organizers hope will make the coming season even more successful than the one concluded last spring.

Eleven weeks were chopped off the distance over which the league will travel, stopping at the end of 22 weeks this season instead of the 33 as last year. This innovation was partly the result of many complaints that the season was "dragging" toward the end.

Play is to start during the week of Sept. 21, with the first session concluding during the week starting December 14. Of these 13 weeks there will be no play during two of them—the ones in which the Thanksgiving and Armistice holidays fall—making 11 weeks of knocking 'em over before the Christmas holidays.

Three Nights Weekly

The post-New Year's session will run another 11 weeks, from the week beginning January 4th on. Play every week will be on Mondays, Tuesdays and Friday Games will be run off all three nights at 7 and 8.30. Each team will bowl only once a week.

Thirty-six teams in all make up the league this year, the same number as last year. But instead of two divisions, this year there will be three.

Rules and regulations of the Greater Vancouver Fivepin Bowling Association were adopted, and meeting approved affiliation with that organization. Some of the advantages of this affiliation are, according to league president Craig Brodie, that records made here will be recognized at Vancouver and registered Kelowna teams will be able to compete in B.C. championships.

A maximum of 100 for a team handicap has been set this year. Scratch average will be at 200. Instead of the 80 per cent handicap going to the underdog last year, it will be 70 per cent this year.

Use Four-Point System

Another change in the use of a different point system in reckoning standings. The maximum any team can make in its three games in one night is four and to do so it would have to win all three games. One point is awarded for each game won and one point for the high three-game total. A team that lost two games could still get two of the four points if it scored a higher three-game total than the team that won two, which often happens.

Entry fee this year will be $4.50 and all fees are to be paid to either members of the executive or the Bolodrome management. A list of all players on each team has to be submitted by that time, the league has ruled.

Prices are slightly higher than last year, with each of the five team members 50c. In addition, each player will pay 15 cents for prize money. In all it represents five cents a night more than last year. Including entry fee, it will cost a team $76 for the 22 games.

Need 90 Per Cent

This year, if a team shows up with less than four players, the team defaults. But the team against which the defaulters are to play will receive credit for three wins, or any at all, unless it bowls 90 per cent of its average in each game.

Executive members, in addition to proxy brodie, are: Reg. Merriam, vice-president, Jack Ritch, secretary-treasurer, Vic Franks, past president, George McKay, secretary for the Monday night division, and Larry Woud, secretary for the Tuesday night. A secretary will be chosen for the Friday nighters as soon as the make-up of that division is determined.

A small saving for the league will result from its decision to supply its own foul line judges. Members of the teams will take turns at watching for offenders. The executive is trying to get copies of the Greater Vancouver body's rules and regulations for each team in the league.

PARIS NOT GAY BUT LADIES ARE CHIC

MONTREAL (CP) — Paris has lost much of her gaiety, but not even sky-high prices can dim the Parisienne's flair for smart clothes, Miss Cecile Ena Bouchard said in an interview here on her return from a three-months visit to Europe.

Miss Bouchard, former C.W.A.C. public relations officer, said she found prices for clothing and millinery in Paris "fantastic."

"But the French woman, even of moderate means, manages to look chic and different."

"And right now I'd like to say that the New York in my opinion will never replace Paris as the fashion capital of the world. The artistry and creative ability of the French haute couture cannot be surpassed."

Food conditions, particularly in the large cities of France, still are "pretty frightful," with the average person living on a very meagre diet, Miss Bouchard said.

"There's no butter to be had, and the bread for which France was famous is non-existent. A kind of cornbread is eaten."

"Grim reminders of war are to be seen in the fields of France. Tanks and other materials and weapons of war clutter up the fields. It's pathetic to see people living in houses that are total wrecks."

YPU COLUMN

Activities in the Young People's Union will be increased with the commencement of another season of fellowship and recreation.

Two executive meetings were held recently to begin planning for the near future. Two important events are brought to the attention of all Y.P.U. members. On Wednesday evening next, September 10, there will be the big party and gathering, to formally welcome into the Y.P.U. all C.G.I.T. girls and Tuxis boys who have graduated from their respective groups and are entering in the fellowship.

The prospective members will be contacted individually and should any be missed he is asked to take this as a formal invitation. Time—eight o'clock, and place is, of course, the church hall.

Event number two concerns the Young People's fall rally, to be held this year in Kelowna over the Thanksgiving week-end. As hosts, the Kelowna branch will provide a program and billets. More information will be published at a later date, so keep following this column and stay informed.

Advance notice may be given here to Young People about the Crusader's Cavalcade which will be in Kelowna on September 19, 20 and 21. More information about this event is also forthcoming.

SOUTH OKANAGAN VALLEY NEWS ROUNDUPPENTICTON BULGED AT THE

Labor Day week-end under the sponsorship of the Knights of Pythias. From the ring of the star's bell for the first race at Queen's Park on Saturday afternoon, until the white-clad St. John Ambulance attendants reached into the big barrel at the Gyro Hall at 1 a.m., on September 2 to determine the new owner of a 1947 Plymouth, there was a holiday spirit in the air in which everyone joined. Staged in aid of the Pentiction and District Living Memorial Fund, and the Knight's own Welfare Funds, the ambitious program was an outstanding success and while the financial picture is not yet clarified, it is understood that substantial donations will be made to both funds. Jack Cossentine, a disabled veteran, and an employee of the Unemployment Service Commission, was the winner of the new car.

PENTICTON COUNCIL, which had spent many hours wondering where to get pipe for the domestic water system, changed the tune for a brief time last week and wondered where to put it. Engineer Arthur Evans reported a carload of six inch pipe had been received, and the news of its receipt plunged Council into a rather wistful re-vamping of the whole domestic water piping system. Total footage of the carload is only 1,200 feet which, while very helpful, does not absorb much of Council's present needs.

PENTICTON COUNCIL has been advised by Sergeant D. Halcrow that the police is in favor of a suggested speed limit within the municipality. A letter was read at last week's Council meeting and as consequence, the municipality's solicitors will be consulted, preliminary to drawing up a speed limit bylaw.

THOMAS H. BURTON, former Pentiction manufacturer, was found guilty on a charge of false pretences by Judge M. M. Colquhoun in county court last week and was sentenced to the time he spent in jail while awaiting trial. The charge arose out of the sub-letting of a suite occupied by Burton in cost of hospitalization, and little the old C.P.R. station building. The crown charged that at the time Burton sub-let the suite to J. E. Carferky, receiving six months' rent in advance, he was aware that his lease with the owners did not permit him to sub-let.

WHEN THE NEXT QUARTERLY payment by PENTICTON to the district 15 school board comes due this month, the municipality's cheque will be for the amount comparable to what would be paid for the operation of Pentiction schools alone had separation from Summerland already been effected. The news, a decision of Council last week following a discussion on the protracted school district issue. Summerland recently sent its cheque to the school district, but in doing so, computed the amount an assessments less trees.

THE PENTICTON BOARD OF TRADE is concerned over the complaints received from many tourists over the noise occasioned at night by the constant clanging of the C.P.R.'s switch engine in the lakeshore vicinity, and P. O'Brien, a member of the board's executive, has asked the Council for some remedial measures.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY SUMMERLAND people donated a pint of blood at the Canadian Red Cross blood transfusion clinic last week. There were only four persons turned away, as their health condition did not warrant the operation.

SUMMERLAND BUILDING permits have now passed the $200,000 mark. August figures show that dwellings are as much in the line as ever. Eight permits were issued for new dwellings last month with a value of $17,300. Total value of August permits amounted to $28,725.

POSSIBILITY THAT SUMMERLAND Hospital Society will abandon the hospital insurance contract was voided at a poorly attended meeting of hospital contract holders recently. Apart from hospital society directors, only about five per cent of contract holders were present. S. A. MacDonald, hospital society president, pointed out when the service was started ten years ago, it was planned to spread out the cost of hospitalization, and little the profit was made. Now, the contract is costing the hospital $500 a month, he said. The whole subject will be discussed at the next hospital society directors' meeting this month.

RAIL SERIES TIED

Summerland evened up the best of three finals for the north division championship of the Okanagan-Similkameen baseball league at Rutland yesterday, turning back the home nine 5-3. Third and deciding game will be played in Summerland Sunday.

WILL ELIMINATE CROSSING DELAYS

E. R. Everts, C.P.R. engineer, Rutland, wrote to the City Council Tuesday night promising that steps would be taken to eliminate the long delays of trains which stop over railway crossings in the city. Council recently complained that motorists are held up for lengthy periods on both Water and Ellis Streets when trains are shunted in the railway yards.

KELOWNA BOXERS SHOW UP WELL AT PENTICTON

Several Kelowna and Westbank boxers took part in the boxing show at Pentiction during the Labor Day week-end. Fans there got their biggest kick out of the fight staged between Moraldo Rantucci, of Kelowna, and Kid Elacio, of Seattle, with the close nod going to the American.

Other local boys who gave good account of themselves were Augie Ciancone, Eddie Schuler, George Travis, all of Kelowna; and Kaname Araki, George Fenton and Stanley Tameda, of Westbank. Vince Ciancone and Bill Wilcox were also in the party that went to Pentiction, the latter acting as one of the referees.
